BELLAIRE. BRIDGEPORT. MARTIN'S FERRY.

THE CHURCH AND LABOR

piscussed Pro and Con at a Meeting of the Belmont Central Trades and Labor Assembly-Messra, James and Lewis the Speakers.

The Central Trades and Labor Union of Belmont county had one of the best getings in its history at Bridgeport yesrday afternoon, there being a large endance of the delegates and many The debate on the question The churches are not doing their duty wards harmonizing the existing difsences between labor and capital," ms the feature of the meeting and it the card that attracted the crowd. T. L. Lewis, vice president of the Napal miners' organization, took the affirmative side of the question, and President Charles A. James the nega-

After the meeting was called to order edentials were read from Lodge 1279 of the United Mine Workers of America, sking that Robert Shorts and Robert menhauigh be admitted as delegates. bey were duly obligated.

The matter of the Martin's Ferry aker, who has persistently refused to come union, was then taken up. The mmittee sent to see him reported that e refused to discuss the matter and defed the asembly to do its worst. There was a lively discussion over this matter, after which it was referred to the ocal lodges.

The debate was the next in order and Mr. James was the first to speak. He what they had done, but they could do ore. We have in the United States in the neighborhood of more than 4,000 n who are worth $1,0000,000 and over. We have more than 75,000,000 people. ome of our churches are worth more than $100,000. The duty of the church to draw the people pearer together We have a good many preachers who den't know the wants of the laboring lass because they don't come from the ank and file. All the money that goes the churches and institutions of different kinds come from the moneyed

The moneyed class, as a rule, gamble great deal. The man who gambles in he thousands and hundreds of thouends is rated higher than the poor man she gambles for less money. Very few kingmen can attend the blg instituons because they cannot dress well. If he churches should advocate the use of money in the building of homes so that e could have a place to stay, read, etc., hey would help the laborer.

burches are doing some good work They are building up a good many things. The laboring man would rather are a dollar independently than all the money he could get through charity. A nan feels small when he thinks he is ompelled to accept alms. When he per to the mill and earns his dollar he els independent.

our children, but they don't do any-Churches would do ell to advocate the use of the union latel. If they would take up that mater they would encourage the working eople who go to church. The working can goes to the little church because he thinks his clothes are not good enough to go to the big church. thurches should show the people that they don't spend their money properly. We go to the churches and hear a later sermon very seldom and then only by special request. We would all feel proud if we knew that the church would think of us on more than once in fifty-two Sundays. - They don't do it. If they did they would attract more of us laboring men.

Mr. Lewis Responds.

Mr. Lewis then arose to take his side of the debate. The very declaration, he said, carried with it a conflict between two classes of people. The church was doing its duty towards harmonizing its relations. If they obeyed God there would be no need to ask them to do it. tude of the church. This was a question that should require a great deal of time for an intelligent discussion. He would take as a basis for his argument that no society could perform a work unless it knew the principles of the work they were to perform. Of all the reform movements in this country among the laboring people none of them could reform until they knew the work they were to perform. The church, not knowing, is not able to perform the duty we want them to perform. We have churches and churchmen to-day, who never lift their volces in aid of suffering brothers. They, then, are in ignorance. If the men who to to church are false to obligations, the church is not to blame. There isn't any day set aside for labor by the churches, neither is there any day set aside for capital. If they did this they would recognize a class distinction that thould not exist there.

We as laboring people, are the weak side of this question. We are the weaker party under the discussion as labor and capital. We are crying out against the evils that are inflicted upon us and that is where we make the mistake. We are weak because we do not know our strength. We know it isn't right for tapital to accumulate millions of wealth while there are thousands of people starving, yet we know it isn't right for us to squander the thousands we do every year. The churches don't use the union label on their publications, be-cause they don't know the object of the union labels. Let us not find fault for something somebody else does that we are guilty of ourselves. Let these peoble know that they do not practice what the good book teaches-the right to live and enjoy equal advantages. If we do our duty the churches will so theirs.

Mr. James then arose and said that the Platement of Mr. Lewis' that men who wer clean, no matter how ragged their clothes, are not barred from the church, was good enough as far as it went, but how many of us would go in that con-take a back seat. Another man enter ed, who was worth more money than I, but no better dressed, and was taken to a forward seat. I believe the church could do better work. Not one membe of a church will come to a labor organization to tell them what to do. They should come occasionally and give us a little religious talk. If they would go to labor meetings and see what they do they would not say we are anarchists,

Mr. James said in conclusion that he did not want to say anything derogatory to the churches and he hoped he had not done so.

In the discussion which followed Sec retary Morris spoke at some length. He thought too much money was squander ed on elaborate church buildings when It could be put to better use in amelloration of the condition of mankind. More money should be used for the purpose of building club houses where the poor man could go and edu-

An Excellent Game.

One of the best amateur games of football seen in this vicinity this season was the one played at Martin's Ferry Saturday afternoon, between the Crossing Tigers, of Hellaire, and the Junior Tigers, of Martin's Ferry. The Bellaire team had a slight advantage in weight, but the Martin's Ferry boys played all around their opponents and found it easy at any time to go through the Bellaire line from three to ten yards. This was the second game netween these teams, the first game resulting in neither side scoring, and was for blood. The Martin's Ferrians midde fifteen points, while their opponents could secure but five. It was a well was the one played at Martin's Ferry could secure but five. It was a well played game throughout.

Mrs Meister's Death

Saturday morning at her home in Bridgeport, occurred the death of Mrs. Theodora Meister, after an illness of the days, with pneumonia. Musical Entertainment.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church, of Martin's Ferry. give a musicale to-morrow evening at the residence of Miss Mattle Howella in Kirkwood. An excellent programme, including the best talent in this vicinity, has been arranged and the affair prom-lises to be very pleasing.

Council Meeting.

A regular meeting of the council of Martin's Ferry will be held to-morrow evening, at which time a petition from the Laughlin company will be presented, asking for the vacation of Union street, north of Sherman avenue, and Main street north of the viaduet. The vacation of these streets is asked in order that the company may make improvements which they contemplate making in the near future.

Bellaire Elks' Memorial.

The memorial services by the Bellaire Elks in the Columbia theatre yesterday afternoon, were attended by a splendid articines, the auditorium being filled. The memorial address by Rev. D. W. Cox was particularly interesting and delivered in an entertaining way, and the culogies by C. J. Lynch and J. J. Coniff were well received. The singing was especially good and instrumental music fine.

Changed Their Minds.

The two Bellaire men who pleaded not gullty when arraigned in court the indictments for keeping gambling "I went into a church, thinking I was betty well dreased and I was told to latter is indicted on three counts, two of them being for illegal sales of liquor at the Bethel harvest home picnic.

May Divide the Force.

State Mine Inspector Biddeson and Deputy Thomas McGough held a conference with the management of the Plitsburgh & Ohio Coal Company, Saturday, relative to dividing the force and working the mine. The result is not vet announced, but as 110 men work at that mine, an effort will be made to resume work as soon as possible. The new shaft is down about sixty feet, but there is about forty feet more to go.
The contractors threw up the job or the new shaft would have been through before this time

The Company Won.

The suit of Small against The Bellaire Stove Company, in which the plaintiff sought to recover $10,000 damiges against the company for the death of his wife, which he thought was caused by an explosion of stove polish pre-pared by the company, resulted in favor of the company.

A BACKWARD CHILD

In a child that is backward in teething, look out for rickets. You can prevent any serious consequences by promptness.

The cause is poor nutrition, imperfect digestion of food, wrong food, poor food, bad air, low life.

You must stop it. Give Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil to feed the bones. Now give him good food: the proper food for a child.

It is a short job, and not a difficult one.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.
